Re: David Norris

Dear Sir or Madam:

It is with whole-hearted confidence that I recommend to you the services of David Norris.

I had the pleasure of working with David for Raytheon Aircraft Charter and Management for many years. David was in charge of all FAR .135 training for our operation and I was base Chief Pilot of our Atlanta operations. Due to the relationship of our respective positions I had the pleasure of working with David on a regular basis. We not only interacted coordinating the training of my staff, but I also enjoyed attending training on an annual basis myself.

David was always the consummate professional with emphasis on clear and accurate information. He always did an excellent job of making what would normally be boring and repetitive information current and interesting. Accuracy of information and interesting presentation was always foremost.

Should you require further reference, please feel free to contact me personally.

Sincerely,

Joel Tucker
Chief Pilot / Director of Operations
